

Charles Jenkins has been firmly established as one of the most dynamic forces in Christendom and beyond. As a community leader, counselor, and preacher, 31 year old Jenkins is respected and revered for his innovative thinking, age old wisdom, contemporary leadership, business savvy and his holistic approach to ministry. As pastor of the historic Fellowship Missionary Baptist Church, Jenkins has quadrupled the church's weekend attendance, and implemented an innumerable amount of ministries and programs.

Charles Jenkins is a graduate of Moody Bible Institute earning a Bachelors of Science degree in Christian Education and a graduate of Trinity Evangelical Divinity School holding a Masters of Arts degree in Religion.

Charles Jenkins sits on a number of corporate, religious, governmental, and educational boards. He is also a conduit that brings people together to ensure mobility and momentum for individuals, organizations, and communities. Pastor Jenkins is truly considered the yardstick for his generation.

A man of balance, Jenkins is married to Dr. Tara Rawls-Jenkins and has two young daughters, Princess and Paris.